

An Ecumenical Christian Education NGO

We need your support to preserve Christians in the Middle East

1. What we do for our students

We provide CrossTalk children, youth and young adults, with the tools to learn the Bible, and a safe environment to live the Word of God:

- Bible classes, books, and an audiovisual library
- Trips, summer camps, spiritual retreats
- Concerts, after-school clubs, Christian nightclub 'THRIVE'

2. About our Christian community

We provide CrossTalk families with one thriving, ecumenical Christian community of all denominations, working as one body to preserve Christianity in Lebanon and ultimately in the Middle East, through:

- 3 branches in Lebanon to reach as many families as possible; Broumana (mountain area), Hamra (Beirut, the capital), and Rabweh (suburb)
- Community outreach programs; CrossTalk donates food, clothing, furniture to the needy Lebanese and refugees (Palestinians, Iraqi and Syrians). CrossTalk helps in educating people by paying their college tuition fees
- Seminars and publications for parents and families
- 'Give of Yourself to Others': a program initiated by our youth to donate hair to cancer patients. CrossTalk has become the strategic partner of the Children's Cancer Center of Lebanon (affiliated to St Jude Children's Research Hospital) in giving joy to their patients

3. Who pays for all this?

Classes are given free of charge therefore funds are needed to keep our mission going. Our fundraising activities are:

- Lunches and dinners, such as our recurring open house fundraising lunch which celebrates special events and foods from around the world
- Exhibitions which include CrossStitch (stitch work and patterns by parents)
- A boutique of Christian books, DVDs, gadgets, and accessories
- A flea market
- The catering of events and sale of homemade foods, sauces, desserts, and preserves prepared in the safety of our kitchen on site
- Serving lunch at our cafeteria
- The publishing of a Lenten cookbook (for which we are working on a second edition, to be made available internationally)

4. How you can help

We have established ways for those outside Lebanon to contribute to our growing projects and expenses through donations in the following ways:

- Donating through the Charities Aid Foundation America (CAFA), with which our NGO is registered. All donations will be tax deductible
- Donating through our website
